

DEMOBILIZATION OF TROOPS NOW UNDER WAY IN HOME CAMPS

200,000 Men Will Be Sent Back to Civil Life In the Next Two Weeks, Says March

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Movement of American troops across the Atlantic has stopped entirely and demobilization of troops in cantonments and camps at home is under way.

General March, chief of staff, made this announcement today, outlining the war department's plans in answer to the questions the country has been asking since the day the armistice was signed and it became apparent that the war was over. He said orders already issued would send 200,000 men back to civil life within two weeks and that when the program was in full swing about 30,000 would quit the army daily.

Fighting divisions of General Pershing's army in France will be demobilized as far as possible in their home communities. The chief of staff would make no prediction as to when the first divisions would start home. It appears probable that the flow of returning troops can be in full tide before February 1. Quarters will be available for them at the cantonments by that time.

Rainbow Division Will Return First

Some officers regard it as possible that certain divisions may be recalled in advance of the general return movement. General March indicated that the 42nd (Rainbow) division, because it is composed of men from twenty-six states and in recognition of the fighting record it has made in France, would be marked for special treatment. The 26th (New England National Guard) and the 41st (Sunset) divisions are in the same class, so it would not cause surprise if these three organizations should be designated by General Pershing as the first to return. With six weeks of 1918 left it is possible they may be home before New Year's day.

Supplementing General March's statement, Secretary Baker said it would not be necessary to maintain all the existing cantonments for demobilization purposes and that a study was now being made of those desirable for that purpose. The others with all the divisional camps, he indicated will be abandoned as soon as the men now occupying them have been mustered out.

General March Tells of Plans

"We have in the United States now something like 1,700,000 men and to muster out a force of that kind, of course, will take some time," said General March. "Each man has to be examined physically, his final accounts made, so that the men may get compensation they are entitled to. Blank forms are being shipped to the various camps for use as these orders go into effect."

"The orders that have already been issued affect some 200,000 men. I expect to muster them out in two weeks. When the machine is in full operation we expect to release 30,000 men a day."

"In handling this problem of demobilization one of the features which had to be considered was the subsequent retaining of men for the regular army or what will be the regular army when congress passes laws reorganizing that army. When the war broke out there were only a limited number of men in the service and the great number of men who filled out these units were men who voluntarily enlisted for the period of the war. So we have offered these men who came in for the period of the war the option of re-enlisting if they care to."

"We have offered an immediate honorable discharge with a furlough of one month upon re-enlistment and we propose to ask congress to give every single man who has been honorably discharged one month's pay, whatever his grade is, as a bonus. Every man who is discharged from the army is entitled to wear his uniform for a period of three months, that is a very necessary thing, because the releasing to civil life of three or four million men makes it impossible to clothe in civilian clothes so great a number."

"As men are discharged, we take up the question of the officers. Officers, who want to apply for commissions in the regular army will be considered; officers who want to put themselves in a class where they can be used for future military operations will be offered commissions in the reserve corps. The rest of them will be discharged."

Order Troops Home from Abroad

"I have cabled General Pershing to return to the United States on troop transports all the men who are casualties or convalescents, sick and wounded who are able to be moved and these men will come in a steady flow across the Atlantic before the larger number come back as units."

"We propose when the divisions come back from France to have them mustered out in the vicinity of their homes."

"With references to casualties in the American Expeditionary Forces, I cabled General Pershing to report in plain English and not in code to save time, the name of every man killed, wounded and missing up to the time of the armistice not hitherto reported. I have had an answer this morning saying he would expedite it in every way."

HASTEN IN SUBMARINES

Basel, Switzerland, Nov. 16.—The German government has addressed an appeal to the submarine crews explaining that it is indispensable that the armistice conditions be carried out rapidly. Guarantees, it is stated, will be given that the crews will be repatriated after their arrival in England and will be discharged as soon as they return to Germany.

AMERICAN ARMY BEGINS ITS MOVE TOWARD GERMANY

Every Precaution Will Be Taken In Advance

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Nov. 16.—The American army will begin to move toward Germany at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The army will travel about twelve miles each day. To the army just organized has fallen the honor of heading the first big unit of the allied occupational force. The advance will be made in columns and not in the order of battle so long followed. But it is not forgotten that technically, at least, there is still a state of war. Nothing will be left to chance and every precaution will be taken to guard against surprises. Care will be taken to have the force well echeloned. The advance guard will be followed by engineers who have been instructed not only to clear the way generally but to inspect keenly every object and position that might be a trap. The Germans have sent word that the way is open and the mines removed except in cases which they have designated. Water also will be inspected carefully. The arrangements in force are such that although advancing much as it might along the country roads of the United States the entire formation could be altered almost in minutes to battle formation.

Will Move Slowly.

Divisions moving on the front will have others in support and the flanks will be carefully covered. In addition a long line of balloons will be up behind the lines and they too will be moving slowly forward, observing the movement of the retreating Germans. The aviators will have little to do. They will move up later unless an unexpected break comes, in which case they too will be ready for immediate action.

The advancing Americans will be flanked by the armies of France and by Sunday evening it is expected that the advanced elements of the Americans will cross the Belgian border. The fifth French army on the left and the tenth French army on the right will advance abreast the Americans.

Wonderfully rested by the few days of inactivity and their pride touched by the honor conferred upon them, the divisions of the new American army awaited eagerly Saturday night the order to advance. Many of them were new, equipped with uniforms. Seasoned by hard fighting and schooled in discipline, the men won the praise of officers who looked them over in the afternoon. The occupation of the territory which is being steadily evacuated by the Germans will not be carelessly hastened. It will be some days before German soil is reached, but in less time the Duchy of Luxembourg will be penetrated.

MORE WORK

GIVEN M'ADOO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The action of President Wilson who today issued a proclamation taking over the consolidated express business now carried on by the American Railway Express Company and assigning the operation to Director General McAdoo serves to clarify the express situation on the understanding that the express combination operated privately as the agent of the director-general.

No radical change will be made in the methods of operation or in the employees of the express company it was said at the railroad administration. The director general is expected shortly to initiate higher express rates in accordance with the plan recently submitted to the interstate commerce commission and particularly approved by that body. The president's action in placing the express business specifically in the hands of the railroad administration will remove doubt as to the powers of the director-general to initiate rates for the express company.

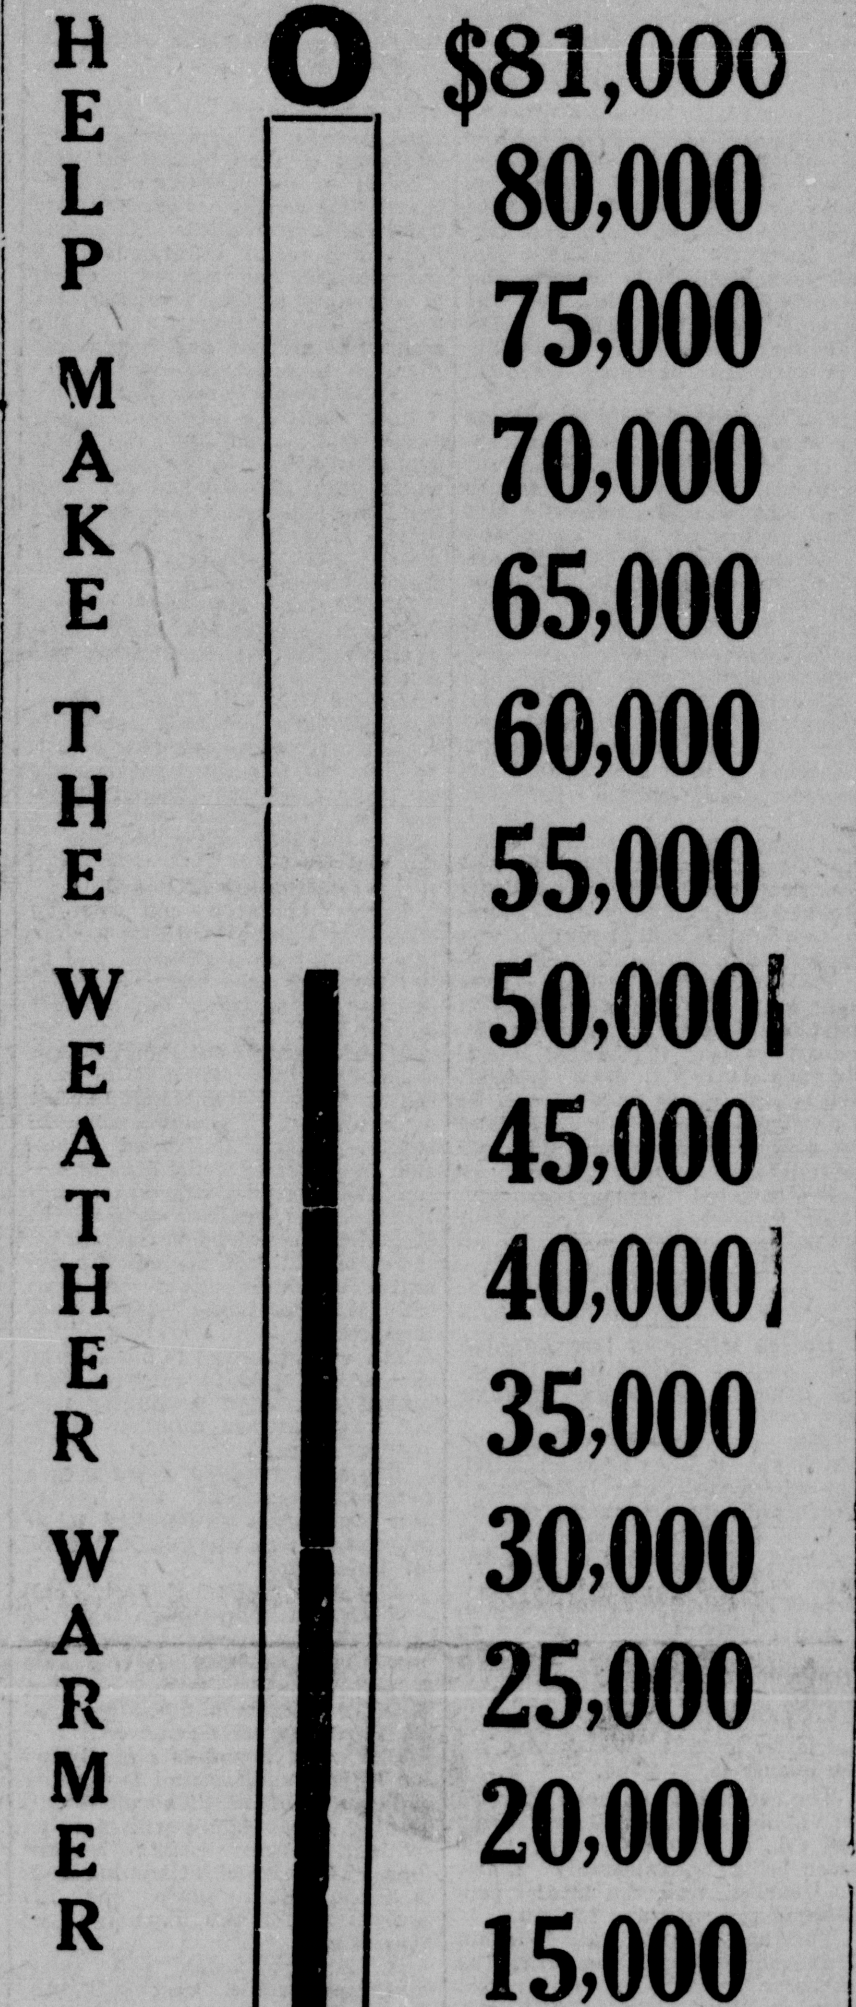

PETITION DENIED.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—In denying today a petition for a change of venue asked by Victor L. Berger, Adolph Germer, William F. Kruse, Edwin S. J. Tucker and J. Louis Engdahl, Federal Judge Landis said: "This court cannot permit a petition of this kind to be made a mere vehicle of slander."

Big Reductions Will Be Made In Naval Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Estimates of the navy department for the 1920 naval appropriation bill as submitted to congress are announced today call for $2,441,300,000 but as they were prepared with the view of continuance of the war, material reductions are expected during the framing of the bill which will be begun next Tuesday by the house naval committee.

Appropriations for the navy for the fiscal year ending next June 30 amounted to about $1,730,000,000, all of which, except $125,000,000 provided by a recent deficiency was carried by the regular 1919 appropriation bill.

Increase In Naval Strength

Increase in naval strength is provided for by the new estimates. Besides calling for a new three year building program of 150 vessels, including ten super-dreadnaughts, six battle cruisers, and 140 smaller craft as previously announced by Secretary Daniels the estimates include appropriations of $233,985,000 for completing the first three year program. The new building program contemplates expenditure of $6,000,000,000, one third of that amount being appropriated each year.

An emergency fund of $175,000,000 to be spent at the discretion of the president is expediting delivery of material and munitions and completion of new ships also is contained in the estimates.

Big Items of Estimate.

The cost of the marine corps is estimated at $155,286,900, an increase of about $12,000,000 over the last appropriation. Other big items of the estimates include:

Pay of the navy, $579,946,071.
Aviation, $125,000,000.
New ship batteries, $115,000,000.
Fuel, $98,000,000.
Repair of vessels $75,000,000.
Ordnance and ordnance stores, $75,000,000.
Reserve ordnance supplies, $77,600,000.
Medical department, $15,200,000.
Improvements are planned at several navy yards and stations.

5,000 VOLUNTEERS TO MAN SHIPS WANTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Arrangements for bringing home the troops in France are being worked out rapidly from a shipping point of view, that shipping board announced today, in issuing a call for 5,000 volunteers to man the ships that will be used for that purpose. Chairman Hurley, before his departure today for Europe, left definite orders to rush all arrangements for this work.

SCHOOL DISCONTINUED

Great Lakes, Ill., Nov. 16.—The school here which has been training gunners for merchant ships was discontinued today on orders from Washington. The school was organized eleven months ago. It is said that more than one submarine has been accounted for by men who learned gunnery here. More than 100 ships have been supplied with two gun crews of ten men each, and a graduated class of 250 is now at Camp Luce, the outgoing detention camp for sea duty.

Germany Seeks Modifications In Armistice Terms

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Secretary Lansing made public today the text of his reply to radio communications from the German government seeking modifications in the terms of the armistices with Germany and Turkey. It announced that the requests would be referred to the allied governments and the supreme war council and pointed out that such communications should be sent to all the associated governments instead of only to the president or government of the United States and should come thru established diplomatic channels instead of by wireless.

Secretary Lansing's Reply.

Mr. Lansing's note addressed to Minister Suizer of Switzerland says:

"I should be gratified if you would be good enough to convey the following communication to the secretary of foreign affairs of the German government:

"The government of the United States has received the radio messages addressed to the president of the United States by the German government, relating to the armistice with the Ottoman government and the armistice with the German government."

The communications which we received have been forthwith communicated with the other governments with which the government of the United States is associated and also to the supreme war council in Paris.

"The government of the United States takes this opportunity to suggest to the German government that communications of this nature, which pertain to the terms of the armistice or to matters in which all the associated governments are interested should be sent to all the governments and not addressed alone to the president and the government of the United States."

"The government of the United States also desires to call the attention of the German government to the fact that these communications should be presented in person rather than by direct radio communication."

M'Adoo Gives R.R. Telegraphers Large Increase

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Railroad telegraphers' wages were advanced by order of Director General McAdoo today thirteen cents per hour above the rate prevailing last January 1, with a minimum of 45 cents per hour, retroactive to October 1. Eight hours hereafter is to be considered a day's work and overtime will be paid at the rate of time and a half.

This order involving aggregate increases of about $30,000,000 a year, applies to between 60,000 and 70,000 employees, including telegraphers, telephone operators, agent-telegraphers, agent-telephoners, towmen, levermen, lower and train directors, block operators and staff men. It does not apply to telephone switchboard operators. A separate wage order will be issued next week applying to railroad agents who are not operators.

The order meets partially the request of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers for advances and will tend to the provision for time and half pay for overtime to cut down the long hours of employment of which telegraphers heretofore have complained.

A railroad administration statement explained the methods of figuring increases as follows:

"All rates of wages paid as of January 1, 1918, (before the issuance of the order generally increasing wages) and exclusive of all compensation for extra services, are first reduced to an hourly basis which is arrived at in case of monthly paid employees by dividing the annual compensation by the number of regular working days for the year 1918, and then dividing the daily rate thus obtained by the regularly assigned or established number of hours constituting a day's work exclusive of the head hour. The hourly rate for weekly and daily paid employees is arrived at similarly."

"Rates thus obtained, where less, are first advanced to a basic minimum of 35 cents per hour and to this basic minimum and to hourly rates which are above the minimum thirteen cents per hour is added. Eight consecutive hours, exclusive of the usual hour constitutes a day's work."

The wage order does not apply to persons paid $30 or less per month for special services taking only a portion of their time.

Cases of employees paid on a commission or a combination salary and commission basis not including excess or outside commissions, will be considered by the board of railroad wages and working conditions.

LAREDO, Tex. Nov. 16.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor in the closing hours of the Pan-American Labor conference here today, served formal warning that no general reduction of wages nor increase in working hours after the war would be accepted without a bitter fight by organized labor.

WAR WORK DRIVE

WILL BE CONTINUED

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—With only $108,495,408 on hand towards its revised goal of $250,000,000 officials of the United War Work campaign announced tonight that the drive, scheduled to end next Monday night, would be continued until Wednesday night. This decision it was explained, was reached after receipt of hundreds of requests from all parts of the country demanding an extension of time because two days of the campaign were disrupted as a result of the influenza epidemic, still severe in many localities, had further checked the efforts of the workers. Eleven states have passed their quotas, according to telegrams received at national headquarters, but pending official confirmation, none of these reports have been recognized. The eleven states which establish the fact that they were the first to pass their quotas will have the honor of having Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus or Salvation Army hats named after them. The eleven states which show the largest subscription will be similarly honored.

SUGAR ALLOTMENT WILL BE INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—While no formal action has been taken by the food administration officials indicate today it is probable the sugar allotment for the entire country will be increased from three pounds a person monthly to four pounds on December 1.

The increase will also apply to public eating places, allowing four pounds a month of three for every ninety meals served. Lifting of all restriction on the consumption of sugar after January was said by officials to be likely.

REVOLUTION IN HOLLAND SERIOUS

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The crisis in Holland is becoming very threatening according to private advices received in London Friday, says the Telegraph. The newspaper adds that unless the government is able to speedily allay agitation of I. Peter J. Troelstra and other Socialists who are believed to be supported by a large section of the workers, a revolution may be expected.

A dispatch by the Express from Amsterdam under date of Wednesday describes government circles as being nervous over the Socialist threat of revolution which the dispatch says is regarded as possible.

All measures have been taken to preserve order but in view of the deep discontent which is shared by the army and police, apprehensions are felt that events at any moment may take a German turn.

GERMAN PEOPLE BADLY IN NEED OF FOOD SUPPLIES

Hysterical Appeals Made To American Officials

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—In the almost hysterical appeals of the German provisional government for supplies of food and for permission to address itself directly thru a commission to the American public officials here see a purpose to excite sympathies of a large element of the American population more or less connected by blood ties with Germany. With such sympathies aroused the German government, it was said undoubtedly hopes to influence the approaching peace conference toward leniency. Such appeals as those which have been sent by wireless to the German provisional government by Dr. Soif, German foreign secretary to Secretary Lansing were said to be quite unnecessary and not likely to have any beneficial results. President Wilson already has promised to do everything possible to prevent suffering among the civil population of the conquered states. The entente powers have endorsed this attitude not so much from consideration of mercy or sympathy with the foe as from a genuine conviction that a starving and desperate people would make dangerous neighbors; render any satisfactory peace impossible and by appeals to the internationalist spirit endanger the security of the entente countries themselves. The design of the conservative elements in the entente states is understood to be to raise any new issues that would aggravate these conditions.

It is known officially that there is sufficient food in Germany to meet immediate needs. The supreme war council is planning to supply food in the future and before the present stocks are exhausted, assuming the exercise of economy in food distribution. Therefore it is said to be quite unnecessary for the German government to send the proposed commission to the United States to arrange for the purchase of food. Mr. Hoover and the agencies behind him will attend to all of that.

No Food Will Be Given Away

To correct what appears to be a general misunderstanding on the subject, it may be authoritatively stated that none of this food to be sent from America to Germany or Austria will be given away. It must be paid for by the governments of those countries. Possibly that cannot be done in German cash for it is believed that the store of gold in the reichsbank has been practically exhausted thru the heavy purchases which Germany has been obliged to make from the neutral countries for which she has had to pay in coin for the most part. That situation may make it necessary to establish a German credit, but if this is done it will be the act of the supreme war council as part of its function in carrying out the terms and spirit of armistices. America will not have to bear these burdens or assume the risk alone.

Rapid development of the new German government on domestic lines as recorded in the press dispatches is viewed with satisfaction here. The composition of the new cabinet including, as it does, sane and conservative elements enough to leave the whole taken as a guarantee against Bolshevik control and it is hoped that with the assurance of, not an abundance of food, but sufficient to avert famine at least the new government can be assured of more permanency than marked at the advent of the first revolutionary or Mylukoff government in Russia.

The JOURNAL'S SERVICE FLAG

measured up to every standard of manhood. It was not a boy's task to crush the armies of the Kaiser. They were pitted against full grown, hardy, trained soldiers of mature age. They overpowered them, turned them back, and in truth it was a man's job, manfully performed.

IDLE HANDS

(Quincy Journal)
"Satan finds mischief for idle hands to do."
That sentence was never more to the fore in the consideration of the American people than it is now, as the day of peace draws near, with its demobilization of all the armies of the world.

Two million young, red-blooded Americans have been fighting the common enemy over there at the front. Their hands have been kept busy by the greatest task man ever attempted. That work has kept them occupied. It has kept their minds upon the work at hand, and there has been no room or time for mischief.

In idle times, the soldiers find entertainment in the camps. The Y. M. C. A. and other organizations with entertainment of soldiers as their object have taken great pains to keep the minds of the young men full and out of mischief.

It is no reflection upon the soldier to declare that he will make mischief if he is left free to follow his own inclinations. Mischief is but the outcropping of human nature. A man is not normally human without a certain amount of mischief in his make-up.

The great war work drive is more important than it would have been had the war continued, for the welfare of those boys turned loose to their own devices with nothing to keep them busy and contented, would lead to grave results.

Because the war is over, releasing the boys from the trenches, therefore, is an added reason for helping the war work drive, rather than a reason for turning upon it the cold shoulder.

KEEPING FAITH WITH SOLDIERS

"If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies blow
In Flanders' fields."

This is the sentiment expressed in the closing verse of one of the poems written with a war inspiration that will give it life thru the years to come. That poem was written two years or more ago and events since that time have proven that the call was not in vain, for the allied armies did not "break faith" with those who lie in Flanders' fields.

Those verses said "To you from falling hands we throw the torch, be yours to lift it high." Again that appeal has been heeded and the torch of liberty has been held so high that the light has been shed all the world around and the victory for democracy and humanity is complete.

FRANK EYRE RECEIVES SEVERE GUNSHOT WOUND

Gun Slips from Shoulder and Is Discharged—Lead Strikes Calf of Right Leg—Heel Bone Shattered in Downward Course.

Frank Eyre, a farmer residing west of the city, is in a serious condition at Our Savior's hospital as the result of the accidental discharge of a shot gun Saturday afternoon. The lead struck Eyre in the calf of the right leg, rang-ed downward, tearing the flesh from the bone and shattering the heel bone.

The injured man was fully half mile from his home and a quarter of a mile from the road. After the accident he took off his shoe, staunching the flow of blood as much as possible and started to crawl to the public road. A farmer passing in a wagon saw him and took him to the house and later he was brought to Our Savior's hospital, where Dr. Haingrove, assisted by Dr. Roberts gave the necessary surgical attention.

The charge of shot mangled the flesh of the leg and also scraped the bone. The heel bone was shattered. Owing to the loss of blood Eyre was in a serious condition following the operation necessary to care for the injury. Unless infection sets in Dr. Haingrove says he will recover.

Eyre does not know just how the accident occurred. He had been repairing some fence and had taken along a shotgun. When he finished his work he placed the gun, which was an old fashioned hammer design, on his shoulder, and started for the house.

In some manner the stock of the gun slipped from his hand and fell. Evidently in falling, the hammer caught on his shoulder or clothing and the gun was discharged. Following the shooting, Eyre took off his high laced boot and used the lace to tie above the wound to stop the flow of blood. He then started to drag himself to the road when he was seen by a passing farmer who took him to the house. Eyre seems to be unfortunate as he was kicked by a horse several years ago and badly injured.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

Soldiering.

It makes me tired when men complain of sleep or mud or wind or rain. They look out from a cozy room and see the skies enwrapped in gloom, and groan because they may get damp while going for a postage stamp. The soldier has to fight out doors how ever hard the water pours; he cannot sit beside the fire and make a brutal foe expire; he cannot bear a parcel to shield his head from the water fall. The soldier stays outdoors to fight, the weary day, the bitter night; he hears his comrades' dying groans, the cold is crawling thru his bones. Me thinks that when the boys come back from streaming trench and muddy track, they'll look with pity and disdain, on gents who murmur and complain. A man will "Ding bust the sheet!" It put rheumatics in my feet! The weather is the limit now; confound this climate, anyhow! And then some soldier who has slept on battlefields, by tempest swept will say "A grown up shouldn't bawl—go home and get your rubber dol." Oh, when the boys come home again, we'll see a lot of man-size men, and they may teach us to forget our tendency to whine and fret.

WINCHESTER

George Miller of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived Friday to visit at the home of Dr. George Brengle and family.

The war work celebration which was to have been held Friday afternoon was abandoned temporarily on account of the inclement weather. This change of program was a great disappointment to many. More money is needed for the Scott county quota, and it is hoped that it can soon be raised. The total subscriptions now amount to about $11,000. Merritt was the first over the top, then Bluffs and Point Pleasant, the latter by $80. The quota for the county is $16,500.

The carload of 78 hogs shipped to St. Louis were sold to Swift and Co., and brought 20c. This price being considerably above the market, and the total proceeds of the sale was $2,500.

The funeral of the late William Gray will be conducted from the Christian church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Elder J. H. Coats will have charge of the service.

NEW SWITCH BOARD NOW IN OPERATION

Illinois Telephone Company Installed Modern Board—Put in Operation Saturday Night—Banquet Celebrates Completion of Installation.

Among the worthy enterprises in which our city may take a just pride is the Illinois Telephone company with central offices in the Galtaher block. Beginning in a modest way with no parade or blowing of trumpets the company has gone steadily ahead until now it has attained large proportions.

Last February the management decided to secure the very latest up to date equipment and ordered of the Kellogg Switch-board and Supply Company of Chicago, a universal automatic ring-flash recall equipment or switchboard. The order was given in February of this year and last August Charles Smith and four assistants arrived and began the work of installation.

Last night the new connections were made and the hello girls said good-bye to the affair with which they had worked so long and wheeled their chairs in front of the new and elegant board which will hereafter be the scene of their efforts.

Of course, anything like a technical description of the new equipment is out of question, but some features may well be described as they will be of interest. Imagine then the lady operators seated in front of the new board, not the old fashioned transmitter by their sides but instead each has a breastplate transmitter which will be much preferable to the old way.

Each operator can connect with any number without having to connect with a different end of the board as she has the full number connections immediately before her. The idle operator gets the patron's call and makes the connection. Then if the patron want to call another number he hangs up his receiver and immediately takes it down again and that causes a flash right before the operator who knows her services are again required by the customer who has been ringing.

Under the new system the operator is wholly unable to hear the messages being sent over the wires.

Foley Kidney Pills

have helped thousands to health and happiness. They strengthen and heal weak, overworked and deranged kidneys and bladder, so that the disease producing waste is carried out of the system. They banish backache, rheumatic pains, stiffness, soreness.

Miss Sara Weston, 120 Kishwaukee Street, Belvidere, Ill., writes: "I am pleased to state Foley Kidney Pills made a great difference in me. I was in great agony. I could not stoop down, and when I was down I had to crawl up by a chair. I was so lame all over I suffered agony. Now I feel like a new person, stronger and better in every way. EPIDEMIC RULES MUST BE OBSERVED

Dr. Baker Says Only Care on Part of People Can Bring Relief from Quarantine Restrictions.

Dr. E. F. Baker, representative of the state board of health, said yesterday that something must be done to reduce the number of influenza cases in Jacksonville and thus relieve the quarantine rules which have been applied here a period of weeks. While quarantine has been established in other cities and the desired results accomplished and the cities released from quarantine, Jacksonville finds itself still under quarantine.

For some time patients were isolated without placarding the houses. More recently, however, J. Edgar Martin, commissioner of public health and safety, has ordered all houses placarded where influenza cases exist. The rules of quarantine are to be enforced with the same penalties attached that apply to small pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other contagious diseases. The head of each family is permitted to go to his place of business after special quarantine rules, but other members of the family are to remain on the premises. Groceries and other supplies must be ordered by telephone or by messenger and the person delivering the goods must not enter the premises where influenza exists.

Dr. Baker further made the following statement: "This disease is spread only thru personal contact with a case. It does not float in the air."

Laundry should not be taken from houses where influenza cases exist unless the clothing has been previously sterilized.

"A tight ring of quarantine around each and every case, held there rigidly until recovery, and the house is disinfected, will stop the spread."

The general restrictions of closed schools, churches and places of assembly are becoming burdensome and can be relieved only by everybody concerned putting forth their best efforts at control and suppression. Doctors are required to promptly report cases so the police power of the health department can be at once brought into action.

"It must not be forgotten that concealing cases, or not reporting, is a violation of health laws and penalties attaches and family not calling a physician and thereby avoiding quarantine is liable to prosecution at any future time after recovering, when the facts of concealment are brought out."

"It is dangerous to conceal smallpox or influenza to avoid temporary quarantine—not only to the community, but dangerous to the offenders, as the department of health will cause arrest and prosecution where it develops that cases have been concealed to avoid quarantine."

Rest assured the men who wear Faultless Pajamas sold by FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store.

John Daniel Writes from France.

Miss Grace Daniel received the following letter from her brother, John, somewhere in France.

Oct. 5, 1918.

Dear Sister and All:

I will try and drop you a few lines to let you know that I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. This leave me fine and dandy and I hope it reaches you the same. I am getting fat since I came over here. I like it fine and dandy over here. This sure is a pretty country; the only thing I can't understand is the talk of the Frenchmen. I can understand a little of their talk but not much. When I come home I am going to bring you some of this French money. It is lots different than the American money.

Say, Grace, what regiment is Hugh McGuire and Edwin Perbix in? If you will write and tell me I will know what regiment to look for them in. Grace don't forget to send me your picture for I sure do want it. What is papa going to do in Arcadia? Buy out Deatherage's store, I guess. What did Jim do with his Ford? I wrote you two letters a good while ago, so don't know whether you got them or not.

Harry Beauchamp got a letter from his folks. They sent him a newspaper. I saw in it where Harry Beauchamp and John Daniels had arrived safely overseas, and I saw where Charlie Heisler was made corporal. Tell Dad I would like to be there to night to go fox hunting with him.

The weather has been pretty chilly for the week. It sure does rain lots here. I don't hardly think that I will be home for Christmas so you want to eat enough for me. I don't know for sure whether I will be here or not, but I don't think so anyway. I hope I am. Well, Grace, I guess I will close for this time as I can't think of much news so you write as often as you can and I will do the same. So goodbye. From your loving brother.

Pvt. John Daniel,

From Private Frank Waffull.

The following is a letter from Private Frank Waffull, to France to his sister, Mrs. Georgia Brinkmon, 324 Anna street:

Somewhere in France,
Sept. 17, 1918.

My Dear Sister:-

I received your most loving letter a few days ago and was more than glad to hear from you. It found me well and doing as well as could be expected, and I certainly am glad to know that all are well and hope to see you all soon. You speak about me not writing to you all, I haven't had time to write to anybody for two months. We can not write when ever we get ready, so you all just keep on writing as I am always glad to hear from home. Tell Father I am getting along fine, not too worry; as I like over here fine. Tell sister to write. So Harvey is at Camp Grant, tell him when you write, he will like it. I guess it is very lonesome there since the other boys left. I like it over here, as it is a very pretty country, with the exception of being a little odd; everything is much behind times. The people are very friendly and treat us fine. They are very proud of colored American soldiers. Tell Wesley, it is about time for Uncle Sam to call him. Well, I guess I have told you all I know. So with love to all.

I remain, as ever,
Your brother,
Private Frank Waffull,
Co. B, 366th Infantry,
A. P. O. 766, A. E. F.

From Merle Pyatt.

Mrs. Adeline Pyatt, of 802 South East street, has received the following letter from her son, who is in the army service overseas.

Somewhere in France,
Sept. 29, 1918.

My Dear Mother:-

I am in France now, and know you are anxious to hear from me. We had a very nice trip, the weather fine most every day. We arrived afternoon of Sept. 23rd, pitched our tents in an open field, some distance from port. It rained almost every day, and, of course, it was not pleasant to spend several days here, but we were kept busy. The people of France are very sociable and try in every way to make Americans feel at home. The small children came out of their houses and marched along with us for a distance, singing and talking. The women sell many things to the soldiers from baskets and charge rather high prices, but they need the money, so the soldiers pay them willingly. The streets are hilly and narrow, all of cobble stone, the yards are small, very pretty, clean and flowers of all kinds blooming now, and everything looks like summer. It is cold morning and night, warm during the day. There are railroads near here, the cars are small, they travel about twenty to twenty five miles an hour.

We arrived in this small town last Saturday after an all day's ride. There is a population of about 5,000. Soon after arriving we were given billets to sleep in. They are the up stairs part of a French house, made of stone, room rather square, brick floors. We can house ten men. We sleep on straw mattress, have three blankets. We are very comfortable and warm. Up at 6 a. m. breakfast at 6:30 a. m. have very good meals. The boys all show up at meal time. We have various kinds of work to do so our time is well occupied. In the evening after 6 p. m. we go to town, visit the stores and buy what we need. The price of everything is very high in most every case. The wagons they use here are small driven mostly by oxen. This is a Catholic country, and last Sunday a number of us soldiers went to church at 10 o'clock. The church is very beautiful on the interior. The chimes are heard many times each day, and are certainly very pretty. Coming over on boat

This ink which I am using came from one of the German dugouts which had been blown up and which the Germans had left in a hurried retreat.

This is a fine Sunday afternoon the first nice day we have had for three days and nights continually and we have been out in all of it, my feet have been wet for about four days.

I received a couple of magazines from M. K. yesterday also they sell many things including apples, oranges, candy, pies, cakes, etc. Also have moving pictures twice a day. They are very good. There are many interesting things you would like to know but cannot write now. Will try and write to you at least three times a week. Don't worry about me, I am getting along O. K. Write often.

Much love to all,
Merle Pyatt,
American P. O. 910,
A. E. F., France.

From V. M. Willets

J. F. Willets of Alexander is in receipt of the following letter from his son, V. M. Willets, now "somewhere in France":

Somewhere in France,
Sept. 15, 1918.

Dear Mother and All:-

Received your letter of Aug. 5 yesterday and was sure glad to hear from you and to know you were well and getting along fine, that's the main thing, and, that's the reason I am always glad to hear from you.

We are on the front again, you spoke of it being hot there. Well it is any hotter there than we made it for the Hun. I play all of you. We pulled into positions at 1:30 a. m. and from 2 until twelve, Friday, the 13th, (It wouldn't do for you to be here if you are superstitious), we fired into the German lines as fast as we could load up, the woods and valleys were full of artillery from three-inch to twelve-inch guns and they all opened up at the same time so you can imagine what happened. The infantry captured over 8,000 prisoners, the road has been full of prisoners all day going back to the prison camp and the Americans have advanced over 20 miles on a 42-mile front. This drive has been one of the biggest the Allies have made. We are about two miles back of the German lines now. That is, where they were before the drive started. We took a walk over there this morning. I wish I had a picture to send to you of the sight we saw, there isn't an inch of ground left unturned, there isn't anything left of the trees but stumps, the dug outs which the Germans had dug, presumably to live in all winter, are blown to pieces. Machine guns have been torn in all parts.

When General Pershing decided to make this drive the French laughed and said it couldn't be done; but I guess they have changed their minds now.

This ink which I am using came from one of the German dugouts which had been blown up and which the Germans had left in a hurried retreat.

This is a fine Sunday afternoon the first nice day we have had for three days and nights continually and we have been out in all of it, my feet have been wet for about four days.

I received a couple of magazines from M. K. yesterday also the news and enterprise from you.

Well as we are going to move tonight I have to get my equipment ready. Will close. As ever.

Yours with love,
Private V. M. Willets,

Monday, Sept. 16, 1918.

I failed to get the letter mailed when I wrote it. I suppose you have seen by the papers of the big victory for the Americans assisted by the French. We have moved back several miles of the lines and will shortly be out on another sector. We are camping in a large wood. There is a large hospital on each side, also Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross canteen which has hot cocoa, chewing gum and paper. Oh, for some real ice cream, candy and banana from Andra, Altha and Sallie. The magazines are surely appreciated, believe me.

I believe this will be all. Write soon. As ever.

From Clarence Wolke.

Mrs. eGorge Wolke has received the following letter from her son, Clarence:

On Active Service With the American Expeditionary Forces.
Oct. 15, 1918.

Dear Mother:-

I received a letter a few days ago from Henry and was glad to hear from him, and that he was married.

I don't see why he should live in Peoria, when he has a home to live in the rest of his life.

What is Elmer doing? If he can do anything to help you until I return, I'll see that he won't have to do nothing.

I suppose you know most of the war news, and, anyway I don't think it will be much longer until we will be back to the "Old U. S. A."

So don't worry about me for I am feeling fine and fat as a hog. Earl and I are together at the Y and you see it isn't lonesome.

Henry said he left the Stutz in the garage at home and said it would be there when I returned, so don't let no one touch it, for we will never get another one as good as that one.

I am sending a slip with my name and address on it for a Christmas present. The Red Cross will furnish a box, which is 9x13 and must not exceed over three pounds and you must send it before Nov. 20th.

So there isn't much time. Send anything you want to, as I will be satisfied with anything from home.

I have been getting letters from Kathleen and Iva, so I hear about Jacksonville quite often.

Well, Mother, I must close for this time, as I want to turn in early.

Jeanette and Georgia hello for me.

Answer soon.

Your loving son,
Clarence Wolke,

"Foreign office—Dr. Solf.
"Treasury—Dr. Schiffer.

Announcement was made thru Copenhagen early in the week of the formation of a German cabinet of six members, three majority Socialists and three independent Socialists. It would appear from the Berlin wireless despatch that a coalition cabinet has been formed, perhaps subsidiary to Chancellor Ebert and his Socialist colleagues.

There have been no previous advices from Berlin mentioning a council of national plenipotentiaries.

Posterity preserves for you its recognition."

MORE HUN WORK

With the American Forces in France, Nov. 16.—By the Associated Press.—Great quantities of civilian property are being carried away by the retiring Germans according to Lieutenant M. K. Lockwood and Lieutenant D. C. Bebe of the fiftieth aero squadron who returned to the American front today after being prisoners in the hands of the Germans for ten days. The aviators were shot down Nov. 4 in the region of Tannay, east of Reims and were released by the Germans on Thursday.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feferish, Sick, Bilious, Give Fruit Laxative At Once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

The above picture is a likeness to our new Motor Hearse, the main difference being in the pattern of the draperies. We make studios effort at all times to give the best professional service possible, and with this additional equipment, are in position to accept business from a larger territory than was heretofore possible.

Since establishing this business eighteen years ago, it has experienced a very gratifying growth. Our Dodge Motor Car and Overland Touring Car make it possible for us to answer promptly all calls within a radius of 25 miles or more.

We appreciate the favors which we have received in the past from patrons and friends, and ask you to kindly tell others of our new equipment and improved service. Those unacquainted with us are asked to make inquiry of any one in Murrayville as to our standing.

We shall still maintain our horse drawn equipment for use when roads are bad. Those not in a position financially to meet the expense incurred when death touches the home should join Thompson's Mutual Funeral Expense Association, which has a state charter to do business in Murrayville. By listing the members of the family, in good health, and within certain age limits, and upon the payment of small assessments (just helping others in time of need) you receive $100 for funeral expenses. Write for a copy of by-laws.

It is our sincere hope that you will have no need for such service as ours, but if you do, you will find us ready at all hours of the day and night, to answer your call. We again thank you for past favors.

A CHURCH SERVICE FOR TODAY

A service of worship for the home on Sunday, Nov. 17, 1918, 10 a. m. In many homes today there is sorrow. Therefore the central theme of this service is, "The Immortality of the Soul."

Invocation—
Father in Heaven lead us into a satisfying faith and an abiding hope that our worship before you may be spiritual. Amen.
Hymn—
Hark, hark, my soul! Angelic songs are swelling
O'er earth's green fields and ocean's wave-beat shore;
Onward we go, for still we hear them singing;
Come weary souls for Jesus bids you come;
And thru the dark its echoes sweetly ringing,
The music of the gospel leads us home.
Far, far away like bells at evening peeling,
The voice of Jesus sounds o'er land and sea,
And laden souls, by thousands meekly stealing,
Kind Shepherd, turn their weary steps to thee.
Scripture Lesson—

For some will say, How are the dead raised? And with what manner of body do they come? The foolish one, that which thou thyself sowest is not quickened except it die; and that which thou sowest, the sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat or of some other grain; but God giveth it a body. * * * There is a natural body and there is a spiritual body.

Prayer.

1 Cor. 15.

Our Heavenly Father, Thou who inhabitest eternity and the praises of eternity! We are pilgrims of the night, lead us to the light of eternal day. Teach us, protect us, guide us that we may reach our final destination. May we be true to the revelation we have received, honest and honor-

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Never before in history has there been as good a time as at the present to buy land as an investment. With the war over, business will get on a solid basis. The United States will have to replenish the devastated countries, which is going to take a long time; we have the ships to do our exporting, we have the materials, we have the provisions and the men to put it there. Prices on farm products are bound to be high and land will be higher. That land is a safe investment is proven by large capitalists making inquiries, the last few days, with the prospect of buying large tracts of land. I have farms of all sizes and kinds. Come and see what I have to offer. Also, city property of all kinds, and money to loan.

"SEVEN IN NAME, ONE IN AIM" IS THE SLOGAN OF U. W. W.

In a few days we shall be celebrating Thanksgiving Day, thanking Almighty God for the great victory which means so much for the welfare of mankind. It will be a poor, insincere Thanksgiving Day for Morgan county unless our people raise fully the fund which will mean so much to our boys, who yet remain on foreign soil, far from home.

At present, about $49,000 or about 60 per cent of the quota of $81,000 has been raised. Only two days remain to raise the balance of $32,000. One of those days is the holy Sabbath when every patriotic citizen, free from ordinary duty, should consider his obligation to the boys who have saved him from the ravages of a devastating enemy.

Let Morgan county, especially those precincts which are so far from the top, rally once more, so that our boys when they come home, will thank all of us.
C. H. Rammelkamp,
Campaign Chairman.
J. R. Harker,
County Chairman.

WILL HOLD OPEN MEETING
The Salvation Army will hold an open meeting on the public square this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting is only being held after getting a written opinion from Dr. E. F. Baker of the State Board of Health that it would not endanger the health of the community.

Rest assured the men who wear Faultless Pajamas and Night Shirts sold by FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store.

Your Opportunity

Never in the history of the world has there been as great an opportunity for the people of the rural districts as the present. The attention of the world has been turned to the products of the soil as never before; for grim necessity has caused those of wealth to save and divide with the millions of hungry and starving humanity. Not for years will the bins and granaries be filled again to their normal capacity.

We of central Illinois should take advantage of the golden opportunity before us; for we have the soil and water and climate, which, combined with intelligent cultivation of the soil and the rearing of live stock, will make us independent and when the boys come back from "over there" and tell us of the land selling from several hundred dollars to several thousand dollars per acre and paying dividends at that price because of intensified farming, then we will farm better and get better returns even with the advance in price of land that is sure to come after the restoration of peace.

Now is the time to get you a farm before the big advance, for Capital is turning to land for an investment as never before.

Come and see me and I will help you get what you want.

"ALL WORK"
TRACTOR

Is built for all around work in any season of the year. Powerful for heavy plowing—light enough to get out on wet land in early spring or on a soft seed bed for harrowing and seeding—low enough for orchard cultivating—plenty of power for belt work. Here is the practical light-weight high-power farm tractor. Free from freakish features—runs on four wheels; carries the largest 4-cylinder engine we know of on any 3-plow tractor. It sets crosswise of the frame, thus giving direct spur gear drive—no bevel gears. Belt pulley is on direct line with crank shaft.

Frank Lambert Writes Sister

Oct. 17, 1918.

Dear Sister:
Well I guess by the time you get this you will begin to think I have sworn off the writing habit. I got your last letter several days ago, but as we were at the front at that time I could not answer it, and when I did get back I did not have any writing paper. But I am loaded for bear now if I don't lose it some time when I go to move and get in a hurry. I got in a hurry the night we went to the last front. We were laying around waiting for cars to come to take us up when we heard a German plane over head. He sailed over and then came back and began to drop bombs. We blew out the light and started for the dugout. As I went out the door one dropped near enough to hear the whistle of it as it came down. Right then I threw her in high and made that dugout in less than nothing. He dropped five or six bombs around there but didn't do any damage except tear up the scenery. A Frenchman tried to get in that dugout ahead of me but I told him "beatty first, me last," and went right on down, but I had to stop and let him ahead after all as I was afraid he was going to tear my shoe heels off. Well, will close with that. Don't know whether I will get to write again before we go in again but will try to.

With Love, Frank.

P. S.—If you see Vera tell her I got the picture all O. K. I forgot to tell her when I wrote her the last time.

Oct. 19, 1918.

Dear Sis:
As we just received our Christmas package coupons so will send it to you. You can tell by reading it just how big and how much it can weigh. I hardly know what to tell you to send, so will let you decide that. I don't expect this to reach you in time but thought I would take a chance. We are having some more cloudy weather today but hope it don't rain. Frank Molohon went to the hospital and I have not heard from him since. If you get a chance have Walter's and Glen's pictures taken together. Glenn is quite a boy by now. Does he still run off? Say, why don't you and Elmer go west next spring? I think you would have better health.

Well, I will close, as I have a letter to write to Vera.

With lots of love, Frank.

HEALTH TALK

Spanish Influenza o Grip

By Dr. Lee H. Smith
An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three C's—a clean mouth, a clean skin and clean bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloë, root of jalap, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot-bath.

To prevent the attack of bronchitis or pneumonia and to control the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and, as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system and increase the vital resistance. The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid) in which a tablespoonful of salaratus has been dissolved in a quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Frontin" Tablets, or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.—Adv.

ten from the rifle range at Camp Hancock, Ga.

On the Range, Camp Hancock, Ga. Nov. 5, 1918.

Dear Folks:
Will drop you a few lines this morning as I am resting, the first time since I hit camp. We packed our packs yesterday noon, had dinner at eleven and got started out of here at 2:30. There were three companies of us, 750 men. We marched four abreast and it was mostly up hill and down and it was some sight to look back and see the string reaching far off behind and all looking just the same. I don't know where we will get to practice firing here or when we will leave either. We were supposed to leave camp Saturday night and be out here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, so if that's the case will probably leave for some seaport camp tomorrow. They hauled our packs out on trucks so all we had to carry was our blouses. It is about fourteen miles out here and we made it in four hours, rested three times, with fifteen minutes rest. I didn't get a bit tired. We have good tents here but no lights. I got a couple of candles at the canteen, so had a light any way.

Had a fine supper last night about eight o'clock. Ate out of our mess kits, and sat on the ground around candles to eat it. We were certainly dirty when we got here and they haven't any water here so have to haul it from camp. I had about a pint left in my canteen, so I poured it in my mess kit this morning and washed and shaved with it. Did a good job too, and feel fine now. The sergeant just came along a while ago and told the boys to shave up and those that needed it to get a hair cut, so think we will move pretty shortly. We are all resting this morning and some of the boys are playing games.

All the boys are glad they are leaving Hancock. I would rather be in France any day than there. We had to send almost everything home before we left. All I have with me is my towels, washing soap, tooth brush, razor, powder, looking glass, shaving soap, sweaters, muffler, wristlets and sewing kit. I expect some of this will have to come back before I go across, as they issued us a razor, tooth brush, towels, comb and looking glass. I hated to give up my comfort kit and pillow but they were too bulky to take along. If I get a chance will buy me a small one before I leave to put my stuff in.

Well mother, I got the box that you sent Tuesday, Saturday night just after I had mailed my letter. Say the cake was certainly fine and the candy couldn't be beat. I could hardly eat any dinner Sunday. Have you sent the pictures yet? If not hold them until I get to another camp and don't write any more for if we leave here I won't get it. They bring the mail out here from camp every day so may get some before I leave.

We won't go back to camp any more as the railroad is two miles away and we will go on the train from there. How are all the people getting along shucking corn? Have the boys left for camp that were drafted in October? Lots of the boys here got letters from home saying that the draft there was called off. The papers said yesterday that Austria and Turkey had both surrendered but you can't believe much of that stuff as it has been about all there is in the papers down here for a month. Tell dad hello and not to work too hard.

With lots of love to mother and dad.

Your soldier boy,
Beryl G. Litter.

Camp Hancock, Ga.

From Corporal Arthur E. Johnson.

Misses Mabel and Emma Johnson of Litterberry are in receipt of the following interesting letter from their brother, Corporal Arthur E. Johnson, written while enroute to Europe. The young man is a member of Co. E, 150th Infantry, A. E. F. His letter follows:

Somewhere on the Atlantic.

Oct. 15th, 1918.

Dear Sisters, Brothers and Friends:

I have for the last few days but little to do so today I thought I would write you a letter or at least start to write one. Well I will first tell you about my sea-sickness, which I am thankful to say that I did not have. The first day I was on the ship, I did not feel so well. And the next day or so I did not feel nearly so well as I would have felt if I had felt lots better than what I did. But that was a lion account of the others being sick. I kept away from those that were sick as far as possible and if you believe me, I had to keep away from the most of them. And sometimes you were only lucky that you were a man. And at that you would be in the danger zone (you know). But we are almost all well now and say what a noisy bunch we be.

We had one man to die some how. I don't know as he had any disease. I think he was from Mississippi or Alabama. I know he wasn't from Illinois. Lots of the boys I think just heard of sea-sickness and just weren't satisfied until they got sick. Well I guess that's all about the sick. They are all well now. I don't know how many of us boys there are on this ship, raft or what ever it may be. I can't count but to one hundred and there are more than that. Like unto that corporal I told you of. I asked how many brothers and sisters he had. He said he wasn't sure himself. He said that his father didn't even know; for he said the old man couldn't count to but twelve and there were more than that.

Well, I have heard a lot about the subs, but no one could prove by me to this day that there are any such. I have never seen one. (I haven't ever seen where one has been and I have watched all along. I thought that where one had come up and then went down it would surely leave a hole in the ocean, but maybe not. If we sink I have the ship picked out to go on. That is if I don't take a nation to swim back to America. The ship I have picked out to swim to, that is if I have to swim, for they say that salt water is hard, and if so and hard enough I will walk across. It is the ship that has the nurses on board. And if their ship sinks I am going to jump out and get me an arm full of them. But I don't think our ships will sink for as I said before the water is salt. If we were sailing in a rain water barrel it would be altogether different.

Oct. 18.—I will just try and write a little more, Oct. 19.—Guess I will finish this time. Last night I went to the Y, sat down and began to write. Just wrote one line and happened to see a stripe on a boy's arm next to me. The stripe indicated that he had been wounded, so I just began asking him questions and found that he was from Chicago, Illinois. So I just went away my pen and paper and had quite a chat. He told me a great many things he had experienced. He said he would not take one million dollars for his experience and

ONE MAN OPERATES BOTH TRACTOR AND IMPLEMENT

Electrically Governed 18 Horse Power with the New

MOLINE
UNIVERSAL TRACTOR
It Solves The Farm Help Problem

The perfected 4-cylinder overhead-valve engine of the new Moline Universal Tractor, Model D, develops 18-horsepower on the belt, pulling a 24-inch grain separator or 16-inch ensilage cutter, with a belt speed of between 2400 and 3000 feet a minute.

Variations in load do not affect the engine speed of the Moline Universal in the slightest, due to an electrical governor that instantly regulates the throttle to compensate for the slightest change in pull. Electricity, the most sensitive, quickest acting force known to man, holds the engine of the Moline Universal under control, and makes it run steadily under all conditions.

The pulley on the Moline Universal Tractor is located directly in front of the engine, making it easy to change from one operation to another. Running a silo filler, corn shredder, feed grinder, wood saw, clover huller, hay press, water pump or electric lighting plant are only a few of the many uses to which the Moline Universal can be put.

Unusual economy is shown by the Moline Universal Tractor, because of the perfected overhead-valve construction of the engine, with a small bore and long stroke, and valves that measure half the diameter of the combustion chamber. A specially designed intake manifold heats and dries the gas to a perfect condition for burning. These features in combination extract every ounce of energy from the gasoline, producing power at remarkably low cost.

The construction of the Moline Universal engine is such that it will stand up without flinching under the hardest test to which it can be subjected. Extra large bearings, lubrication under 35 pounds pressure, alloy steels and careful machining give it the stamina to stand up for long runs under full load.

The real superiority of the Moline Universal Tractor, however, lies in field work. Here it enables one man to perform every field operation, including planting, harvesting and cultivating. Its universal adaptability practically does away with horses and also solves the farm help problem.

It is easily the most useful and greatest labor saving device ever invented for the farm.

Investigate what this machine can do for you.

said he would not give a cent to go back.

We sure had a fine trip across the ocean. We were in—well, they said it was a small storm for about a day. I thought it was rather bad my self. The waves rolled away above the ship. But I soon got used to that. I saw bigger waves on the Atlantic than I ever did see on that creek that runs thru father's farm.

We are in a camp in one of the most beautiful countries that I ever saw. We are living in barracks now for the first time since I put on the uniform. I don't know how long we are going to stay here and we don't care. We would be satisfied to stay and the same to go tomorrow.

I went to a lecture for a short while last night and for the speaker was from Illinois. He sure was a great fellow. But still that's nothing we are going to prove it to you before this thing is over. But still I don't know as we can do much good on the front as I heard a fellow say that sometimes the Huns retreat so fast that nothing can keep up with them but airplanes. I call that going some.

Say we have a great time here with our money I had some of mine changed and today I went to the canteen to get some soap so when the girl handed me the soap I just threw down a hand full of money and said: "Is that enough?" She picked out what she wanted and I took the rest. When I got back I had an awful argument with some of the fellows as to how much I paid for the soap. I knew how much I had paid for it all right.

As we were coming to camp we had to take the train a way and at every town we were again met by the Red Cross. Say don't any of you think for one minute that the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. are not worth while. They are the greatest things in the world at this present time.

Another very interesting thing here is the women. That's about all you see as most of the men are away on business, and so lots of the work here is done by the women. They run the canteens and the like. I bet I spend all of my money now.

I have still got the little sweater and am wearing it all the time. We get plenty to eat and are all well. All we want now is to train ourselves so we can get fast enough to keep some where in sight of the Huns.

Say did you get that letter from Robert Bergland? I tell you what to do. You try and get the address of all the boys I have known and send them here to me. See Lora and get her brother's address. Get Ed McCarty's and so on. I may go to see them sometimes. I guess that will be all this time. Write to me once in a while and tell everybody to do the same, as I can not write to everybody. I can tell them how I appreciated their kindness when I get back. So here is your brother Art feeling fine and so don't worry about him. He will take care of himself. So by-by. Write and keep me posted on the latest war news in the States.

From Ernest E. Dyer.

Mrs. J. A. Dyer of Franklin is in receipt of the following letter from her son, Ernest E. Dyer, "somewhere in France."

Somewhere in France.
Oct. 18, 1918.

Dear Mother:—
This is Sunday night and I have just finished a letter to Ruth and will now talk to you a little while. And I think it will be a "little" while too, for I am getting so sleepy I can hardly keep my eyes open and you know how it is for a fellow to write a letter when he is sleepy. Well, mother, I have gotten so that I don't want to sleep as much as I did when I was at Mr. Barrows'. I am awake every morning before the bugle blows. Don't you think the army would be a good place for Roy? Tell him I said to try it. I have never had a bit of trouble since I have been in the army. I have lots of good friends here and I think anyone can have it if he tries to do the right thing, and I surely have tried to do my part. Of course there are lots of temptations for a man in the army but I promised you and Ruth to be a man wherever I went and that is the way I am coming back to you. But please don't worry about me, for if I never get to come back it is no more that lots of the other boys have done. You know that all of us cannot come back, and we never know, but I expect to be one of those to come back. If I keep my health as well as I have so far I think I will be with you when the flowers bloom in the spring.

What has become of Arthur Buchanan? Is he at Camp Taylor? If he is still there he is lucky. There aren't many of the home boys with me now. Homer Ferguson and I are still together but Bob and Ruby and Russell have been transferred and I don't expect I will see them any more until we get back home, if we are lucky to get back.

I think I must close now and get to bed. So just tell everyone "hello" for old Tim. This leaves me well and I hope it finds you enjoying good health.

Your loving son,

THE FRENCH FATHERLESS CHILDREN

The interest in the Fatherless Children of France fund continues unabated, according to a statement made by Mrs. W. T. Scott, county chairman, yesterday. The chairman is able to report that she has received thru Mrs. Ernest Strawn, chairman of the Woman's Council of Defense of Alexander precinct, the information that the Red Cross society of Alexander will adopt two of the French orphans.

Mrs. George Brown, who is chairman of the Clayton Point branch of the W. C. N. D. in Franklin precinct, has also sent in a report showing that the unit she represents will assume care of one of the children.

The following facts are taken from a pamphlet issued by the Chicago committee in charge of the movement:

"The orphaned children of France must grow up strong and fine, ready almost manhood and womanhood to take up the task of their dead fathers.

"Over a hundred years ago French came to the assistance of the young American Republic; today the Republic of France calls to America through the voice of each of her sons, dying in the cause of freedom: 'I gave my life. Will you help my little ones?'"

AMERICAN DEFENSE SOCIETY PLANS.

Editorial Journal: Possibly you have heard that before the United States entered the war there was organized a society known as the American Defense Society.

Their purpose was to combat the destruction of food and munition supplies in this country and to instill patriotism in the foreign born citizens of this country and to broadcast patriotic propaganda.

After the United States entered the war they included in their work the combating of German propaganda. Many of the things which they called were and still are published under the heading "Combating the Hun Web," in the Adventure magazine.

And as a proof that there is still work to be done in this line the writer was in a store Saturday, November 9th, when the following conversation took place, mostly one sided however:

"Well I can get all the sugar I want now, can't I?"

Merchant: "No, only your allotment."

"Why can't I? I'll tell you why because that bunch of crooks at Washington want to get more money for it. I have just come back from Louisiana and there are millions of pounds stored there. Next month they will give us more. (I have seen the speaker every Sunday for the past year.) The merchant made a half-hearted denial. He said: "Nothing to it."

A young lady clerk said: "As long as they ask me to I intend to save mine for the boys."

I said nothing wishing to see the store.

Such talk tends to cause dissatisfaction with the government and creates unrest and doubt which is exactly what the Germans want and by the way the speaker was of German descent, his parents coming from Germany.

At present the society is pledging the people not to buy cheap German products after peace is declared. Why are they doing this?

Because Germany planned to control the markets after the war and they planned to flood the markets with articles sold so cheap that our own manufacturers could not compete with them and they would thereby fill their war chest again.

Several months ago Germany shipped thousands of men's hats bearing a stamp, "Made in England," into Holland selling them much cheaper than the English article. However the people discovered this and boycotted the merchants who handled them.

Glass blowers in Germany have been working for wages of $1.75 and $2.00 since the war began. The same work in this country commands $25 to $35 per week. Again before the war Germany controlled the dye market of the world. Since the war the United States has built up a dye industry at the cost of many millions, producing products second to none.

Shall we let the Germans regain this market by selling their cheap article with which our manufacturers cannot compete? Shall we help Germany pay her war indemnities?

Let us organize a branch of this society. It is taking hold all over the country. Address all communications to the American Defense Society, 44 E. 23rd St., New York, N. Y.

WAR WORK TOTALS SLOWLY CLIMBING

MORGAN COUNTY CAMPAIGN NEAR TWO-THIRDS MARK

Special Effort Will Be Made Today in City and County Canvass—Fr. Smith of Franklin and Fr. Flynn of Murrayville Heard At Noonday Luncheon.

Morgan county's United War Work campaign does not yet have an over the top status, but considering the difficulties under which the campaign is being managed, conditions can be termed very satisfactory. Subscriptions recorded up to noon yesterday for Jacksonville and 9 o'clock last night for the county precincts give Jacksonville $23,910, county precincts $30,287.61.

These totals mean that the county has raised about two-thirds of its $81,000 quota. The plans have been worked out for a very complete canvass today in both city and county, according to a statement made by both Dr. Rammelkamp and Dr. Harker last night. Only heavy rainfall today can interfere with these plans and there are good reasons for the belief that before the sun goes down tonight that not a great deal will remain for the final campaign hours of Monday.

Because it has not been possible to hold any general meetings in the county a great deal of difficulty has been experienced in making the canvass. There is an enthusiasm which comes from general assemblages which it is hard to gain in any other way. The campaign is not going to fail and the record of Morgan county in doing its full share in every war work activity will be fully maintained.

Dr. Rammelkamp in his statement at the luncheon yesterday laid some emphasis on the fact that in Jacksonville about 3,000 subscription cards have been signed. Using a customary method of calculation based on population there must be about 6,000 adults in the city. It is realized that in some instances cards have been signed by both husbands and wives and taking this fact into account the number of adults who have made no subscription would probably be reduced from 3,000 to 2,500. But any way the matter is figured there are too many residents of Jacksonville who have made no subscriptions at all for this very much needed fund. So the teams have so organized their work that everybody in the city will have the opportunity to give today or tomorrow and it is confidently hoped that the number of persons who have made no subscriptions at all can be reduced to a very low figure.

Active Solicitation Today

What is true of the city is also true of the county with reference to intensive solicitation work and plans were well outlined yesterday for a general visitation today. While large public meetings cannot be held it is safe to say that every resident of Morgan county will be called upon by one of the solicitors and thus given the privilege and opportunity of taking part in this campaign.

When ward reports were called for, John J. Ferry as captain of the first ward stated that the ward's quota of $3,504 had been met and that additional subscriptions were still coming in. Other reports were:

Second ward, F. J. Waddell, captain—$344.

Third ward, J. W. Merrigan, captain—$1070.

Fourth ward, T. A. Chapin, captain—$1002.

The total subscriptions by wards up to noon Saturday were: First ward $3504, Second ward $6707, Third ward $3660, Fourth ward $10,039. The ward quotas are: First $3500, Second $8500, Third $4200, Fourth $12,249.

Special Subscriptions

Subscriptions from societies were called for and given as follows:

East Side Tuesday club, $5.

College Hill club, $5.

Monday night club, $5.

South Side Circle, $5.

Mound Woman's club, $10.

Fortnightly club, $5.

Wednesday Class, $10.

Ladies' Educational society, $10.

Catholic Ladies' War "Work" fund, $25.

Pythian Lodges of Jacksonville, $50.

Victory Boys of Jacksonville, $311.

Victory Girls, $85.

Clover Leaf Girls, $62.00.

F. J. Waddell made a special report of $212 from employees at the tailoring department at Capps mill. The sum total of subscriptions for county precincts as given by Dr. Harker showed subscriptions to date previously reported of $4,417, bringing the total to $25,717. The additional subscriptions secured during the day are reported elsewhere in this paper.

The Franklin Way

The chairman introduced Rev. Father Smith of Franklin for an address on the theme, "How They Do It in Franklin." The speaker made an appeal at once eloquent and strong and several witty references brought appreciative applause from his auditors. Father Smith said that wealth, learning and culture were all supposed to be centered in Jacksonville but that it really was in the little town of Franklin to set an example in giving and that he was consequently proud of his town. "We may have less money now," I said to Mr. Keplinger of Franklin this morning," continued Father Smith, "but at least we have more honor." We should indeed be proud to have part in this campaign. It took our American boys to beat Kaiser Bill and now with our support thru this campaign our American boys are going to beat the devil. The fact is that in Franklin we couldn't keep from entering enthusiastically and successfully in this campaign if we wanted to. We have never lived in such a time as this and possibly we will not again. The reason we have succeeded in Franklin is because class and politics and creed have all been forgotten and we have worked together shoulder to shoulder for the common cause.

What Real Sacrifice Means

"Another reason for our success in Franklin is because we have a live editor there—Warren N. Luttrell. His paper possibly does not have all the quantities that your papers here in Jacksonville have, but, after all, it is the quality that counts. In his issue this week he did not have a story about the farmers who had given large gifts (in fact they have given nothing, for without the war their prosperity would not have come) but instead he had the story of an old lady resident of Franklin who contributed $3 to the cause. It was one of those common place things that home and the visit was made after some hesitation. We decided not to ask for a subscription but just to make mention of the work we were doing, and we were glad indeed we made the call for this lady said, 'Oh, I was so afraid that you wouldn't give me the chance to give.' In another case we called upon a woman who earns her living over the wash tub and she gave us $1 that had been laid away for many hours in preparation for the coming of our committee.

"I agree with the sentiment expressed by Dr. Harker that on Sunday you can engage in no more religious work than that of solicitation for this campaign. You will, indeed, be following in the service of Jesus Christ, who laid down His life for the world, if you join in this work and in the support of the seven agencies now united in this great drive.

Defeating Evil Force

"We are giving for the protection of the men who have offered their all upon the country's altar. The war is over, the victory has been won by America, but we must make our subscriptions freely now to defeat the forces of evil, just as we have defeated the Kaiser."

Harry Gade, captain of Murrayville precinct, was next introduced and said that he left all the speaking to his lieutenant, Rev. Father Flynn, of the Murrayville Catholic church. Father Flynn said: "We worked hard in hand in Murrayville in the Liberty Loan, War Savings certificate campaigns and in other war time activities and we have a successful record. We are proud of the work we have done and you can count upon it that our precinct will deliver the goods before the final day and the final hour of this campaign comes. The figures that we have presented do not tell all the truth. We prefer to hold something back, but we are going to fully meet the good record of the past."

The Debt to the Soldiers

"I claim some patriotism myself for one brother has already made his sacrifice and I have two other brothers in the war and will be ready to make my own. This solicitation we should impress upon the people that we are not begging but are simply asking them to make a subscription and help pay the debt that they owe to the soldiers who have willingly made every sacrifice upon the country's altar. In this campaign as has been said before, the organizations are seven in name but one in aim."

Dr. Miller of Woodson reported an additional $400 for his precinct and Allison Thomason said the people of Markham had not reached their total yet but would do so before the close of the campaign. A. A. Curry of Pisgah precinct also indicated that some work still remained to be done. The record of the past would be fully maintained. Corroborative testimony along this line was given by Aaron Howe, who is the chairman for Pisgah precinct. C. H. Gibbs of Lynnhaven talked along the same line and Crit Hainline of Prentice told of the activities of the committee in his precinct during the week. Every person solicited made a subscription. He told of visiting one home where two children had died within a week's time and yet the mother without solicitation wrote out a check for $10.

Amos Swain gave an optimistic report for Sinclair precinct and some other informal talks followed. The chairman next introduced Mrs. H. B. Barnes, a returned canteen worker.

What the Canteen Means

Mrs. Barnes explained in a very interesting way some facts about the organized work at the war front in the various agencies having part in the campaign. She said the situation of the boys over there can be understood if one imagines he were in a town without a church, library, school house, theatre, home, club or any organization of that kind. "That is about the situation which confronts the men at the front and it is to take the place of home and church and places of amusement that the various organizations have outlined their work. One of the features of the Y. M. C. A. work which the boys at the front appreciate is the bank. There it is possible for a soldier to exchange his American money for French coins. Some times the day's business in changing money runs to $35,000. So you can see that there are many patrons for the canteen in which I worked." The speaker then told about the restaurants operated for the soldiers, the soda fountains and then she gave interesting details of concerts, lectures and other entertainments provided for the boys. Reference was made to religious features of the services which are so planned that with-

CAMPAIGN NOTES

Workers in the United War Work campaign have determined to put forth a great effort today to close up the city's quota. It is estimated that there are about 2500 persons in the city who have not subscribed.

The excuses offered in a campaign of this kind are always interesting. One man told a solicitor that he could not afford to give because of the heavy income tax he was obliged to pay. Another said he had no money. God had given him none with which to pay but as soon as he did he would give and give liberally.

Still another said he had to send money to his sons who were in the service and so far as other people's boys were concerned he did not care.

It is often interesting and refreshing however to meet with this choice souls that do care for their own boys as well as for those of others. Two canvassers were out on a certain street the other day and came to a home which had but recently suffered from bereavement and loss of loved ones. One said to the other: "We'll pass this family up. They have recently had large expense and long illness in the family." The other said: "Let's go in. They may have a contribution and would be disappointed if we do not call upon them." They went in and the good mother said: "We were expecting you; here is our contribution," and gave to the solicitors four five dollar bills.

The subscriptions of some people make one suspect that they reason like this "How little can I give and escape?" Others ask: "How much can I give?" To the latter class belongs an old soldier of moderate means who came into headquarters on Saturday and voluntarily left his subscription for $40. The leader of our popular patriotic drum corps, who made a subscription of $50 is another citizen with a big heart. The example of these men should prompt others to call at headquarters and "raise" their subscriptions.

Monday ought to be a big day in the campaign. The teams of both the city and county precincts will be working all day Sunday and the harvest of gifts to be reported at the noonday luncheon Monday will certainly be large.

The County Precincts Franklin is still away over the top, and still going. Concord is within $200 of the top.

Murrayville is going to surprise everybody on Monday night, is the promise of Father Flynn in his talk at the Saturday luncheon.

Everybody begins to take the campaign seriously now. Nobody wants Morgan county to fail. There are still two days in which to work. Sunday is a good day for an active canvass, for this work is deeply spiritual, for the bodies and souls of our boys.

Why not pray and work and work and pray for the next two days? Everybody can pray; let all work who can, and let all give till we feel happy over it.

The above is the report at 9 o'clock Saturday night:

Joseph H. Harker.

HOW'S YOUR VICTROLA

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

During the week three speakers addressed the College. Mr. E. E. Crabtree explained the working organization of the Liberty Loan Campaign. Miss Gertrude Lobdell elucidated the Austria-Hungary situation and Mr. J. Lawrence Erb gave the genesis and possibilities of community singing.

Two birthday celebrations by trustees of the College awakened interest in the hearts of their friends among the students and faculty. Mr. E. Blackburn who celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday, received felicitations thru President Harker. Dr. T. J. Pittner was sent a number of personal greetings on Saturday to reach him on his natal day, Sunday, November 17th.

The World Fellowship Week of Prayer was recognized by the Y. W. C. A. in three special services. The first on Sunday afternoon, November 10, at which time Miss Grace Hasenstab was the leader. Monday evening, at the time of evening prayer, Miss Constance, director of the School of Expression, was in charge. Tuesday evening, at 9:30 a fireside meeting was conducted under the leadership of Miss Vera Wardner.

The Home Economics Department provided two stunts Thursday night. The Household Arts division gave a two scene representation of the wool situation in 1918 as contrasted with 1917. "Waste in Wool" was depicted by a department store crowded by prospective purchasers, each asking for samples and careless about the variety of patterns. A thousand wool patterns were in stock and much in demand. 1918 with its war situation was characterized by no distribution of samples, wool patterns offered for sale reduced to one hundred, and a great demand for cotton and silk goods to take the place of the wool used the year before.

The Household Arts division dramatized the substitution of the "Baker's Dozen" instead of Sugar.

Miss Knopf is one of the painters showing pictures with an exhibition by Artists of Illinois which opened on Thursday of the past week at the Allied Arts Society in Peoria.

The Juniors entertained the Seniors at a formal dinner party Saturday evening, November 9. President and Mrs. Harker, vice-President and Mrs. Nymman, Misses Taylor and Benson and the class advisers were also the Juniors' guests on this occasion. After the dinner, an informal program was given for the entertainment of all.

EUGENE CORBIN IS FOUND DEAD IN BED

Colored Boy Passed Away Some Time Friday Night or Saturday Morning—Was Subject to Epilepsy—Coroner Will Hold Inquest.

Eugene Corbin, a colored boy was found dead in bed at his home, 521 North Santa street, shortly after noon Saturday. The boy was discovered by his brother, James Corbin, when he called him to get up for dinner.

Eugene Corbin was the son of Joseph and Cynthia Evans Corbin and was born in this city Nov. 8, 1898. He was afflicted with epilepsy and it is probable that an attack some time Friday night or Saturday morning required in death.

Besides his mother he is survived by five brothers, Clarence and George Corbin of Chicago; James Corbin of Jacksonville and Sylvester and Arthur in service overseas and one sister, Mrs. Robert Alken, of Chicago. He was a member of Mt. Emory Baptist church.

Owing to circumstances surrounding his death Corbin's body was notified and took charge of the body. It is probable an inquest will be held this morning.

THE USE OF WHEAT SUBSTITUTES HAS BEEN ABANDONED

Instructions have been received from the United States Food Administration that the 80-20 rule requiring that one pound of authorized substitutes shall be sold with each four pounds of wheat flour has been abandoned. This means that wheat flour may now be sold by retailers and used by bakers without any substitutes whatever.

Getting Down to Facts

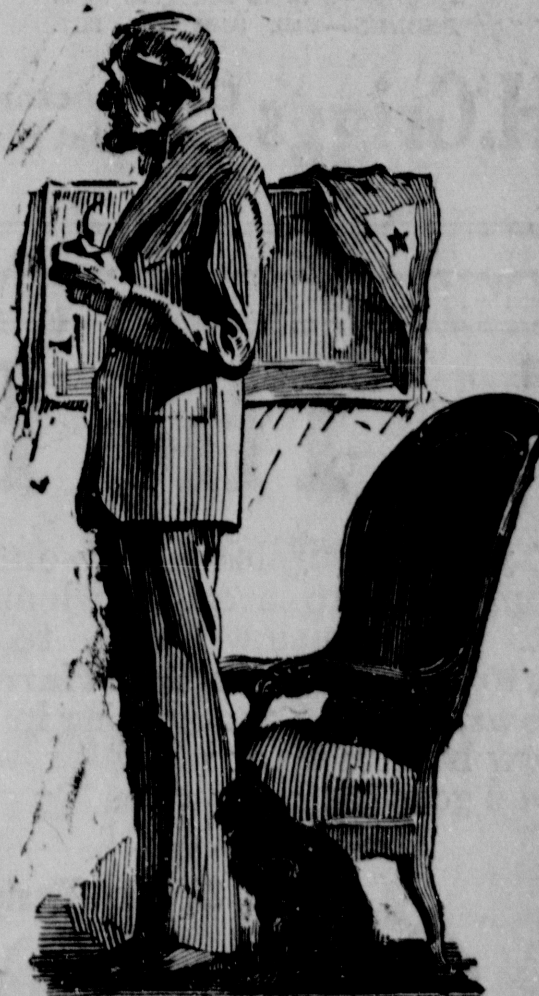

There are some men in this town who used to pay tailors a lot of extra money to make their clothes; they thought they were hard to fit. Along came the war, and a good many of these men looked around for a way to save; they wanted to have more money to invest in Liberty Bonds. They turned to fine ready made clothes like we're offering—

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

Well, here's what has happened; they've found that they can be fitted perfectly in ready made clothes; that they get the finest all wool fabrics that are woven; and best tailoring and style. And they save some money for themselves too.

There's a lesson in this experience for others who want to save; and we'll be glad to do our part any day; we'll show any man that he can be fitted in ready clothes and we'll show him a saving in the bargain.

One Man Tractor

The Case Tractor has proven its superiority for general utility purposes. It is the most practical one-man tractor. The two-plow tractor will pull two heavily loaded wagons, the driver occupying the seat of the first wagon. One gallon of kerosene consumed in the plowing of 6-10 of an acre. Many other tractors do not burn kerosene successfully.

Ask for demonstration of the Case.

PUBLIC SALE

H. C. Myer will hold a public sale of live stock, implements, hay, grain and household articles, Wednesday, Nov. 20th, commencing at 10:00 a. m., 6 miles northwest of Jacksonville. C. M. Strawn, auctioneer.

His Mother Needed Money —and She Got It!

An American soldier is in a village in France. He is one of our boys and has been fighting our battles. He has been on military duty for eighteen months and he and his countrymen with their allies have seen the victory won.

He has been inspired by high ideals and lofty motives. His courage has been sustained by the men and women in the huts maintained by the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., Salvation Army, the Jewish Welfare Board and like organizations.

These give him the fighting spirit which we call morale and he and his comrades would never have won the victory without morale. These organizations strengthen the ties that bind him to the homeland—that make him think of mother.

This soldier of ours goes into one of these crude huts piled about with sand bags all in the midst of confusion and disorder and there he finds a rough counter with a man of middle age behind it wearing an emblem on his arm and a smile on his face.

How are you this morning, buddie?" he asks.

"All right," answers our soldier, "but I'm homesick now it's all over. I'm thinking of mother. She's lonely I know and she needs me."

"I know that's true but cheer up, you'll get to see her after while. Can I help you?"

The boy thrusts one hand into his pocket and with the other points to a sign on the wall. It reads—"Send your Money Home—Ask the Secretary Now."

"Can I send this to my mother?" he asks, and draws out a roll of French bills. "She needs it."

"Of course you can," says the secretary. He counts the money carefully—twice—and then does a little figuring.

"That makes $84.60 in American money."

"And will you see that my mother gets it?"

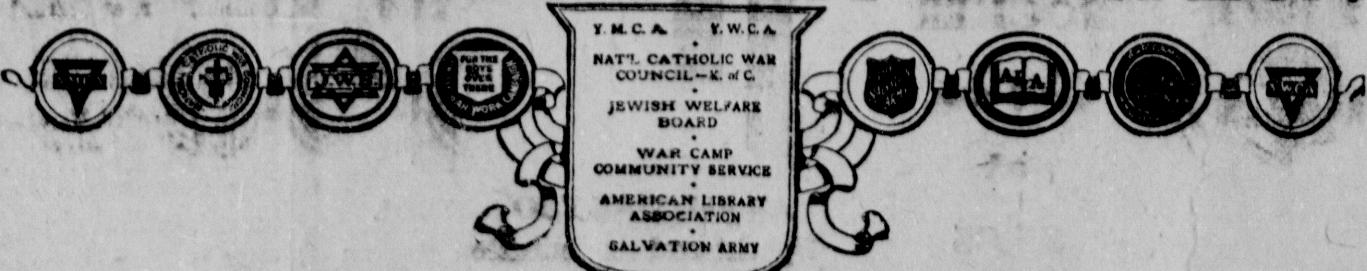

"We will," is the answer. "I'll give you this receipt and I'll send your money to the nearest headquarters. They will forward it to Paris, and Paris will tell New York to mail your mother a check for $84.60."

"How much will it cost to have you do that?"

The answer is it won't cost him one cent. His Mother will get the whole $84.60. Every week the War Work organizations are transmitting more than half a million dollars from the boys over there to the home folks over here.

From the time your boy started to a cantonment until he reached a front-line dug-out the seven organizations have been ministering to him in big ways and little ways, to take the worries off his shoulders and to carry cheer and comfort to him. One aim—one need—now, altogether.

MAROONS TROUNCED BY NORTHWESTERN
EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 16.—Northwestern trounced Chicago 21 to 6 today, outplaying their opponents in every department of the game. Chicago's only score came in the last period, played thru a driving rain which, after two penalties for Northwestern which placed the ball in the shadow of the goal line Elton went over. The kick failed. Northwestern husky backs smashed thru the Maroon defense and with a series of forward passes and line drives Underhill crossed the goal line twice and Payton who was an outstanding star of the game went over once. Cigan kicked all goals from touchdown. Fumbles were numerous because of the condition of the field and prevented Northwestern from getting a larger score. Of 29 games previously played Chicago won 20, Northwestern won 6 and three were ties.

The score:
Chicago 21; Northwestern 6.

WEAKNESS REMAINS LONG AFTER INFLUENZA
Reports Show That Strength Energy and Ambition Return Very Slowly to Grippe Patients.
After an attack of influenza, doctors advise that nature be assisted in its building-up process by the use of a good tonic—one that will not only put strength and endurance into the body, but will also help to build up and strengthen the run-down cells of the brain. One of the most highly recommended remedies to put energy into both body and brain is Bio-fieren—your physician knows the formula—it is printed below.

There's iron in Bio-fieren—the kind of iron that makes red blood corpuscles and creates vigor. There is lecithin also; probably the best brain invigorator known to science. Then there is good old reliable gentian, that brings back your lagging appetite. There are other ingredients that help to promote good health, as you can see by reading this formula, not forgetting kolo, that great agent that puts the power of endurance into weak people.

Taken altogether Bio-fieren is a splendid active tonic that will greatly help any weak, run-down person to regain normal strength, energy, ambition and endurance. Bio-fieren is sold by all reliable druggists and is inexpensive. For weakness after influenza patients are advised to take two tablets after each meal and one at bed time—seven a day, until health, strength and vigor are fully restored.

It will not fail to help you and if for any reason you are dissatisfied with results your druggist is authorized to return your money upon request—without any red tape of kind.

Note to physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-fieren, it is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycerophosphate; Iron Peptonate; Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux. Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Oleasterin; Capsicum; Kolo.

PEACE MEETINGS BEGIN
Paris, Nov. 15.—(By The Associated Press.)—Meetings beginning today of representatives of the associated governments will be largely of an informal nature. They will consist chiefly of conferences of foreign ministers rather than of premiers, with a view to reaching a common understanding of international questions and definitely arranging the program of the peace congress.

One of the first conferences held today was at the residence of Colonel Hlox, head of the American delegation. It was expected Foreign Secretary Balfour or Great Britain would arrive later.

They will be tried by court martial in their absence if the allies are unable to secure their arrest but what sentence may be passed will remain valid.

SATURDAY'S STOCK MARKET UNSETTLED

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Settlement of contracts for both accounts, fear of untoward events over the week end and announcements that the local money pool intends to maintain existing credit restrictions served to unsettle today's short stock market session. One third of the trading was confined to United States Steel, shipping, Mexican Petroleum, Southern Pacific and prominent equipments. Marine preferred fell 3 1/2 points to its recent low figures. U. S. Steel lost ground when Baldwin Locomotive Studebaker and related equipments fell back. The tone at the close was distinctly heavy. Sales amounted to $15,000 shares.

Bonds were firm, liberty issues making up the greater part of the operations. Total sales (par value) aggregated $3,550,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call during the week. The bank statement disclosed an expansion in actual loans for the week of almost $44,000,000 and contraction of $35,500,000 in excess reserves, reducing total reserves to about $29,000,000.

CORN TAKES FRESH ADVANCES
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Famine conditions in Europe brought about fresh advances today in the corn market here. Prices closed strong 1 1/2 to 3 1/2c net higher, with December $1.25 1/2 to $1.25 1/2 and January $1.26 1/2 to $1.26 1/2. Oats finished 3/4c to 1 1/4c up and provisions at a range varying from 17c off to a rise of $1.00.

Corn closed at nearly the top figures of the day. Interest continued to center chiefly on the need of large supplies for trans-Atlantic countries. Wet weather was an additional bullish factor. Besides country offerings were light.

Strength and activity characterized the trade in oats as well as in corn. Hedging sales became plentiful on the bulge. Provisions ascended with grain. Current gossip dwelt mainly on indications of immense quantities of meats and fats required for export.

MRS. BARNES AT LIBRARY

How the A. L. A. Books Get to Our Soldiers and Sailors

Saturday afternoon there was another impromptu story hour at the library. No announcement could be made about it before-hand of course on account of the influenza situation and the impossibility of having a crowd-together, so only the regular borrowers in the children's room were fortunate enough to hear

Mrs. Barnes, a good breeze blew thru the room so there could be no chance of contagion, and the quiet little group will not soon forget the tale of the workers in France.

Mrs. Barnes told about the celebration planned for the poor French children. At first the Y. M. C. A. workers were told to plan for 200 children. That number rapidly grew into 400 and then 600 and finally 1,800 children came to the party. The sailor boys helped get ready for it and helped to carry out the plans. They made tarlatan stockings in their leisure hours and helped fill them with American candy. When Mrs. Barnes told about the tiny gifts provided for the French children and mentioned a pig which squeaked appreciatively. It was certain she has such a pig of her own. The French children are certainly nearer to the children of Jacksonville thru the afternoon's talk. Miss Mann, the children librarian reports that books about France were in immediate demand.

Mrs. Barnes told the young people about the soldiers and sailors in France and how they worked and played. When she heard that some of the boys and girls present had pasted books for the A. L. A. she described just how the books come to the workers and how welcome they were to the boys. She spoke especially of the boys on the destroyer.

She said the books were hailed with delight and she measured one off with the hands and told about the loose shelf in the bottom of the box which could be inserted as soon as it was unpacked and the box transformed into a book case. The boys on a destroyer take out a case of books and when it is pretty well read up bring it in and exchange it for another at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters.

The last thing Mrs. Barnes mentioned in the library was a song that was loved by the boys. It is called "America, the Beautiful," and she sang softly a few lines from it.

O beautiful for spacious skies For amber waves of grain For purple mountain majesties Above the fruited plain! America! America! God shed his grace on thee And crown thee good with brotherhood. From sea to shining sea.

OBITUARY

David H. Thompson was born in the state of Indiana March 15, 1839, and departed this life at his home in Bluffs, Illinois on Monday, November 11, 1918.

While yet a lad he came with his parents to Scott county and settled near Exeter, Illinois. There he lived and engaged in farm work until the outbreak of the Civil War and in the second year of this strife he enlisted in Co. B, 27th Ill. Infantry volunteers, composed of Scott county men. Afterwards he re-enlisted in Co. K, 26th Ill. Inf., in all serving 3 years in the Union Army. At the end he came back to Illinois without one wound and made his home on what is now called "Spunky Ridge," northeast of Bluffs.

In the year of 1868 he was united in marriage to Louise McPherson, and to this union came three children, two boys and one girl, the boys dying in infancy, and the daughter is now Mrs. Ab Funk of Quincy, Ill.

On March 17, 1881, he again married to Miss Narcissa Moss and this union was born four children, the two youngest a son and a daughter, having preceded their father in death in their infancy. Two sons, Harry Monroe and Edward Dean, are now serving their country with the American Expeditionary Forces in France and were unable to be with their father in his last hours.

All those who have had the privilege of coming in contact with the deceased know of his kindness and ever-readiness to help a neighbor and a friend. He was ever a loving husband and father. His one desire at the last was to live until his two sons could come home and peace had been established.

On Nov. 2 he was stricken with a slight stroke of paralysis and again on the following day he suffered another stroke, the last one leaving him helpless and naught that loving hands could do for him could hold him in this earthly home. He departed this life at the age of 79 years, 7 months and 26 days. Besides his surviving wife he leaves to mourn his departure two sons, and a host of other relatives and friends.

He was converted and baptized into the M. E. church about seven years ago under Rev. Cox, and ever afterwards lived up to the teachings of his church.

Funeral services were conducted from the late home, in charge of Rev. F. H. Lathrop, pastor of Bluffs M. E. church. Interment was in the cemetery at Meredosia.

MAVERICKS

Noise hath charms to sooth the savage breast.

Again, "Grim-visag'd War hath smooth'd his wrinkled front."

"He who laughs last, laughs best," must be a good Roumanian proverb.

The quails report having passed a quiet day the first of the open season—Nov. 11th.

How many lives has a Crown Prince? Thought we were going to say "cat," didn't you?

Don't know about Denmark, but we are positive that there is "something rotten" in Holland.

Seems to be something more than a nominal (or pronominal) difference between the I. W. W. and U. W. W.

"Prices of Commodities Will Not Come Down," says a newspaper headline. O Victory, where is thy thing?

Wonderful set of chimes the Illinois Bridge Company had in the parade last Monday. Did you notice them?

One of our songs that ought to be popularized in Germany now is, "Don't Bite the Hand That's Feeding You."

Speaking of music, did you ever hear a Futurist symphony? Well, where in the dickens were you last Monday?

The boys from Illinois College were a little bit more dignified and orderly than we remember having seen them in parades of by-gone days.

We'll just dare that dirty German to lay his dirty hands on our American eight-hour day. Let the Germans do the work.

Eleventh month, eleventh day, eleventh hour. Sounds like the fulfillment of some prophecy, doesn't it? Wait a few days, and see if someone doesn't pop up with the story that it was all pre-figured, and for proof, just go to the eleventh verse, eleventh chapter of—something, and see for yourself.

We thank our friends for the appreciation they give our poetic stunts. But why not give something to the nameless, initial-less beings who edit the rest of the columns? Did you ever stop to think that they might be pleased to hear favorable comments on some of their efforts? Even if they only return a deprecatory "pooh, pooh," they are sensitive to praise, and—well, no telling how much better your morning paper would soon be, if you made this a habit.

Would you believe that here in November the weather has been such that it is still possible to go butterfly hunting? But there are several varieties still to be seen—hte Atalanta, the cabbage and the milk-weed butterflies, and give them a new license. I have seen a new licenseless Atalanta when you see it? She wears a shirt-waist like the marbled paper in a book-binding, somewhat, and is a rather common species.

The Thistle Butterfly. From Canada to Argentina. Where ever collected, roam. In summertime I may be seen—The world is all my home. As "Thistle" butterfly I'm famed In lands I mostly flit in; The "Painted Lady" aptly named By naturalists in Britain. The very weed that you disdain And keep at such a distance

AFTER MANY YEARS.

John McDondald of Chicago was in the city yesterday called by the death of his sister, Mrs. McDondald. He is a son of John McDondald, so long after and general utility man at the gas works. The history of his father reads almost like a romance. The first construction of the gasworks in this city was a fraud from start to finish, hardly anything being as it should have been. The late Joseph O. King a man of wonderful versatility, a merchant, was interested in public improvements and took the work in hand, studied the theory and practice of gas making, trained John McDondald, a man of fine mechanical ability for the practical work and the two rebuilt the entire works, kept them going, adding new pieces as possible until they had the whole thing reorganized and paid for the current receipts.

When the writer was appointed treasurer and collector in the fall of 1867 the only vestige of the first works was the holder that contains the gas after it is made. That was replaced soon after by Dally and Fowler of Philadelphia. Then it was that Mr. King was actively at work promoting public water works, amid much opposition. He had Dally and Fowler make a definite bid on the construction of a system for the city and the writer, helped Prof. Champton of Illinois College make the first survey starting somewhere in the region of the southeast pumping station and ending on College hill where the distributing reservoir is now and the difference in level was 108.8 feet.

CHARGED WITH TRYING TO PASS FORGED CHECK

Sergt. Kiloran arrested Charles Nicholas Saturday morning on the charge of trying to pass a forged check. The check was for $22.50 and had the name of John W. Cherry signed to it.

Nichols tried to pass it at Barnhart's, Benson's and Bahan's places of business. They all turned him down and reported the matter to the police. When he was arrested he was trying to pass the check at Batz & Stice's cafe.

Nichols was placed in the police station and probably will be given a hearing and bound over to the next grand jury.

One day when all was peaceful And all the world was bright, The Kaiser got it in his head To put up a big light. To rule the world was his desire, He thought he knew it all, But after the Yankees had crossed the sea He took a sudden fall. Oh! we are proud of our Yankee boys; They are so brave and true, Their fight so bold and valiantly For the old red, white, and blue. They fight for right and Liberty, That this world may be free, From the cruel rule of kaiserism And from autocracy. Soon, they will return to us, And Oh! how glad we'll be, To welcome them to our shores again.

Where they can dwell peacefully. There are those who have fallen in battle. That we might always be free; We will always remember these heroes, And honor their memory. This is the rear end of the Hummer, the manure spreader that will assure any farmer of the largest possible returns for 1919.

Note carefully the strong construction, the heavy steel wings mounted on a high carbon steel shaft, practically indestructible, with wide, smooth bearings and chain drive. The wings are adjusted to pulverize and spread a perfect, even, wide swath, extending beyond the rear wheels.

The all steel beater is of heavy angle iron with staggered teeth, riveted to bar which is bolted to heavy malleable spiders or hubs which are mounted on high carbon square steel shaft.

The front end trucks are built to stand extraordinary hard usage under all conditions. It has a heavy front axle, 1 1/4 inch cold rolled steel. Fifth wheel extra heavy of a special type with hard oiler. Front wheels set narrow which permits an easy, free movement in turning, and also prevents lashing or whipping of tongue on rough ground. The track of both wheels so arranged that you can scatter over corn rows when top-dressing small corn, without injury to growing corn.

If you are going to need a spreader do not overlook this great opportunity. If you are without a spreader you owe it to yourself to buy one now, and as a money maker you cannot equal this.

Top dressing any growing crop makes big money.
